LENROOT RESENTS CRITICISM

Threatens to Resign as Chairman of Senate Committee Which is Investigating the Oil Scandal—Telegrams Indicate Definite Attempt to Stifle the Whole Inquiry, Senate Probers Say.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Senator Lenroot (Rep., Wis.) threatened to resign as chairman of the senate public lands committee which is investigating the naval oil scandal.

Lenroot's threat was made because of criticism of himself and Senator Smoot of Utah, for not making public until now the story of their conference with Albert B. Fall at a hotel here Christmas time last year, just after testimony regarding Fall's purchase of a $91,000 ranch had been given the committee. "I would be very glad to be relieved of the duties of chairman of this committee and will say that if this goes on indefinitely I shall have to ask to be relieved," Lenroot said.

The senate was informed by Senator Lenroot that court action in the oil lease cases would be instituted very soon. He said he had conferred with one of the special government counsel last night and added that the special counsel "had been working constantly, night and day, in preparing the pleadings."

Senator Willis' name was mentioned in telegrams exchanged between Publisher E. B. McLean and his employees. The telegrams submitted to the committee indicated, members said, that there was a widespread effort on behalf of McLean to hush his dealings with Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior.

Willis' name was dragged into the investigation when the following telegram to McLean at Palm Beach, Fla., was read: "Willis said parties in friendly mood and intimated that nothing further be requested from your end. Harry out of city. Have appointment with Eyed. He expects something. Will also see party I returned with. (Signed) John."

"John" apparently was John Major, McLean's personal Washington agent.

Another reference to Willis in a telegram to McLean said: "Willis in full possession of matters. After battle of wits between Lambert and myself this was accomplished. (Signed) John."

Sensors are trying to learn who the "Eyed" referred to in one of the telegrams is.

Willis will be called as a witness to explain the meaning of the telegrams, committeemen said. Willis said he is anxious to testify before the committee if senators are of the opinion that he promised to or sought to use his influence to head off any part of the investigation. He said he hadn't the slightest idea to what either of the telegrams referred.

Senator Underwood was named again in a telegram to McLean from an employee on the Washington Post, McLean's paper, saying that Senators Curtis and Lenroot had advised that Underwood be seen in an effort to have Walsh called off. In this telegram, it was added, however, that the effort through Underwood was not considered of any use.

Production of this evidence came just after the committee had decided to question Palmer about his part in what some committee members feel was a definite attempt to stifle the whole inquiry.

MILLIONS FOR MEXICO

American and British Capitalists Behind Big Loan.

Mexico City, Feb. 28.—President Obregon signed a decree putting into operation five contracts with American capitalists whereby Mexico obtains a loan of $28,000,000. The signatories, besides the Mexican government, were the Wolvin Line, S. A. Lorillard and the Duke tobacco interests. The Wolvin Line obtained $7,000,000 from British capitalists and a loan of $40,000,000 from the American tobacco people through sale of debentures and agreed to loan Mexico $28,000,000 from the money thus obtained. Repayment of the loan is to be amortized over a period of 20 years, with 6 per cent interest.

Daugherty Repeats He Will Not Resign From the Cabinet.

Chicago, Feb. 29.—Attorney General Daugherty left here for Miami, Fla., to join his wife, who is at that point for her health. While here the attorney general appeared before the federal grand jury investigating the United States veterans' bureau. He would not discuss with press representatives the veterans' bureau investigation, now apparently drawing to a close, although Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, who was placed in charge of the hospitalization work by the late President Harding, came to Chicago on the same train and testified before the grand jury.

Daugherty refused to make any statement relative to the senate oil inquiry developments at Washington, and stood on his previous statement that he would not resign his office.

FILE DECLARATIONS OF CANDIDACY

Columbus, Feb. 29.—Wilbur D. Wilkin of Cleveland, manager for the campaign of William G. McAdoo as candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, filed with Secretary of State Brown the McAdoo declaration of candidacy. James A. Rice, former mayor of Canton, also filed with Secretary of State Brown consent to use his name for second choice.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California filed his declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for the presidency in the Ohio preferential primary and authorization of State Senator George Bender as his representative. At the same time John D. Flackler, Shaker Heights, Cleveland, filed his declaration as second choice and designated Bender as his agent. Johnson candidates for delegates are: Bender, Frank G. Carpenter, Cleveland; H. H. Timken, Canton; J. G. Mathews, Youngstown; Flackler of Cleveland, and Joseph B. Kelley, Cincinnati.

Would Expel Oil Companies.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 29.—O. S. Spillman, attorney general of Nebraska, filed proceedings to oust from the state the Standard Oil company, the Sinclair Refining company and other members of the so-called "oil combine" now operating in Nebraska. Spillman charges that the oil companies "have conspired, combined and agreed together to fix, establish and control the price of gasoline and oil and to prohibit others from selling cheaper than they do."

Borah to Succeed Daugherty?

Washington, Feb. 29.—In congressional circles here it is reported that Senator William E. Borah of Idaho is to succeed Harry M. Daugherty as attorney general, when the latter retires from President Coolidge's cabinet. Borah has taken a leading part in urging President Coolidge to ask for Daugherty's resignation. He said, however, nobody had ever suggested to him that he would be given Daugherty's post.

REFERS TO WORK OF CARD AGENTS

McDonald Replies to Attorney General Crabbe.

PURSUE PARKER'S COURSE

No Enforcement of Prohibition Law in Many Sections of Ohio Had It Not Been For Services Rendered by the Card Men, McDonald Says. Governor Donahay Steps Into the Controversy.

Columbus, Feb. 29.—State Prohibition Commissioner McDonald has come to the defense of the "card" prohibition agents.

McDonald issued a statement in reply to the charge by Attorney General Crabbe that there is no legal authority for the "card" prohibition officers now operating throughout Ohio, in conjunction with local liquor courts.

"The policy and construction of the law I inherited from the former administration, and I have pursued the course followed by my predecessor, Don V. Parker, now in the attorney general's office, except that I have required all such officers to give bond," McDonald added.

McDonald declared that "had it not been for the services rendered by these temporary inspectors, otherwise known as 'card men,' there are many sections of Ohio where there would be no enforcement of the prohibition law whatever." Very few of the "card" officers have been paid by the state, McDonald said, and that it has been his construction of the law that their payment under ordinances by villages, when the officers themselves are appointed at the request of a community, "is but following out the righteous doctrine of home rule."

When the legislature refused to appropriate for additional regular inspectors, McDonald asserted, the department proceeded to exercise "all the remaining powers conferred upon us by the Miller act." "As a result, through these temporary inspectors, with practically no cost to the state of Ohio, they have caused some decent respect for the law in many communities where otherwise the law would have been wholly disregarded," McDonald said.

Governor Donahay stepped into the controversy by announcing that he would ask Crabbe for a formal opinion. The governor refused, however, to say whether he would order the revoking of the "cards" if Crabbe officially ruled they were illegal. "We inherited this system from the previous administration," said Donahay. "I have always favored doing away with the 'card' officers and having a larger regular state prohibition force."

Superintendent Hare said: "The Anti-Saloon league does not favor and never has favored the division of fines. We have always favored a per diem fee for the agents. The $10 per diem fee is a fair wage for the men." Hare said that the league had nothing to do with the hiring of the special deputies and favored a larger permanent force for the department.

Attorney General Crabbe renewed his attack on the "card" officers, who he asserts break law in enforcing prohibition.

INJUNCTION SOUGHT

Rail Employees Would Halt Activities of Rival Organization.

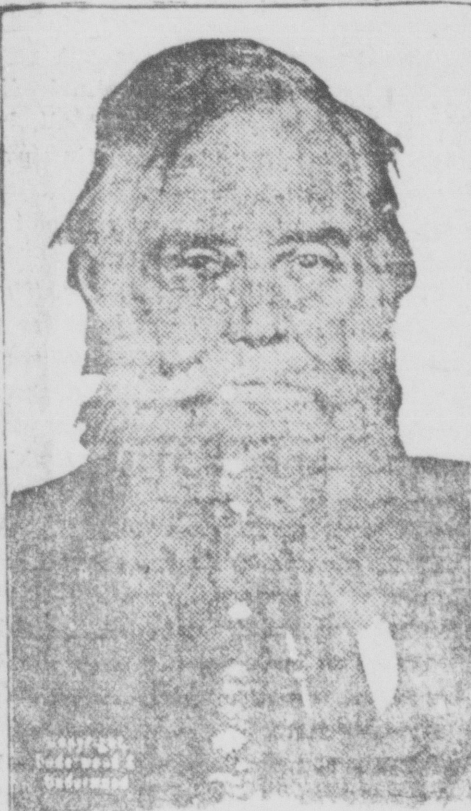

Columbus, Feb. 29.—A petition has been filed in federal court here by the Hocking Valley Shop Employees' association for a preliminary injunction to restrain the company from holding an election to determine whether this association or a rival organization, the Railway Employees' Department of Labor, shall negotiate working agreements for the company. The petition alleges that an agreement with the association made on Dec. 20, 1922, and effective for two years, will be broken if the election is held. The agreement was violated by the United States railroad labor board, the petition states.

Recently, according to the petition, the labor board denied the request of the association that an election by the company be prohibited and set the date of the election for March 5. The association alleges that this decision was made without a hearing having been granted to its representatives.

Bids on the entire shipping board fleet of 1,335 vessels under slightly changed contract terms have been asked for by the shipping board.

DOINGS IN OHIO

McDonald Awaits Evidence.

Columbus, Feb. 29.—Governor Donahay announced that State Director of Prohibition McDonald is awaiting evidence against Safety Director E. E. Curtis of Canton in connection with charges of misfeasance in office during his second term. The governor in acting on the Curtis case is proceeding in accordance with a decision of the supreme court, which ruled that an official can not be removed from office for misconduct during a previous term. Curtis is serving his second term as safety director under his brother, Mayor C. C. Curtis.

Ketner's Prediction.

Columbus, Feb. 29.—F. C. Ketner, director of live stock marketing of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, predicted further development of terminal marketing of live stock to killers, before the members of the Ohio Live Stock Co-operative association in conference here. He also predicted the bringing into use of an individual marketing contract between the producer and his county association as well as a contract between the county association and the terminal marketing commission.

Vocational School to Be Closed.

Chillicothe, O., Feb. 29.—Vocational School No. 1 is to be abolished June 20, 1924, according to an order received by President E. G. Dexter from Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' bureau. The 301 trainees now enrolled at the school will be transferred to the new government hospital now under construction at Camp Sherman. Their training will be continued at the hospital.

Killed Self While Asleep.

Marion, O., Feb. 29.—Coroner C. S. Burns returned a finding to the effect that Otis Palmer, 9, shot and killed himself while walking in his sleep. Otis left his bed shortly before midnight and went into an adjoining room, where he secured a revolver. He returned to his own bedroom, where his younger sister lay asleep and shot himself through the heart.

Car Franchise Approved.

Akron, O., Feb. 29.—Streetcar service was resumed here following a month of suspension. The city administration, headed by Mayor D. C. Rybolt, approved a 15-month operating contract with the Northern Ohio Traction and Light company, providing for a 5-cent fare with a 1-cent transfer charge, and certain bus extensions by the traction company.

Hit by Train.

Tiffin, O., Feb. 29.—A freight engine ran into a group of bridge carpenters at work on the Sandusky river railroad bridge here. Fred Krider, 50, Garrett, Ind., was instantly killed and W. C. Losey of Dolansville slightly injured.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The census of 1910 was definitely adopted by the senate immigration committee as the basis for immigration quotas under the new immigration law. The committee also decided by a close vote to reduce the quota percentage from 3 to 2 per cent.

WOULD AMEND VOLSTEAD ACT

Movement Initiated in the House for 2.75 Beer and Wine.

TWO OHIO SOLONS IN GROUP

House Progressives Join Administration Leaders in Compromise to Make the New Revenue Bill a Republican Measure — McLaughlin Amendment Cutting Automobile Taxes Adopted by the House.

Washington, Feb. 29.—A movement to amend the Volstead act to legalize 2 1/2 per cent beer, wine and other liquors has been launched in the house.

Representative Stephens of Cincinnati and Sherwood of Toledo have joined other congressmen in the proposed drive. The group has prepared an amendment which it will introduce in the house March 4. In the meantime other congressmen are being invited to join the movement and in a letter are being told that Volstead himself has declared 2.75 per cent beverages are legal.

Progressives in the house agreed to join administration leaders in a compromise to make the new revenue bill a "Republican" measure.

They agreed to support the Longworth compromise of 3 1/2 per cent as the maximum surtax rates if the organization's leaders would yield to a 5 per cent normal rate on incomes between $4,000 and $8,000 instead of 3 per cent as Longworth proposes. If the compromise is affected, the Garner Democratic rates will be knocked out of the bill on the final vote.

The Longworth compromise provides for a flat 25 per cent cut in income rates. The maximum rate of 37 1/2 per cent is on incomes of $200,000 or more. The Garner maximum is 44 per cent on incomes over $94,000.

Representative Nelson of Wisconsin in a statement explained the sudden switch of Progressives by saying "it was done in the interests of party solidarity" and a desire to raise sufficient revenue for the spidder bonus. The compromise rates, he believes, will raise more revenue than the Garner plan, which provides a 2 per cent normal tax on incomes up to $4,000 and 6 per cent above $4,000. An amendment by Representative McLaughlin of Michigan, cutting automobile taxes, was adopted overwhelmingly. It would take off all taxes on automobile trucks and wagons, the chassis of which costs $1,000 or less. A 3 per cent tax would be levied on automobiles costing more than $1,000. The 5 per cent tax on tires, accessories and repair parts was cut to 2 1/2 per cent.

HARPER FAVORS MOVE

Prisoners to Be Transferred from Penitentiary to Reformatory.

Columbus, Feb. 29.—Welfare Director Harper announced that immediate transfer from the Ohio penitentiary of from 100 to 150 young first offenders to the Mansfield reformatory is being considered to relieve crowded conditions at the former institution. Warden Thomas has been asked to furnish a list of prisoners of this class who can legally and safely be transferred.

Director Harper believes this would have double benefit, as it would go toward relieving the penitentiary, where hundreds of convicts are idle, and would furnish them with work at Mansfield, where there is a shortage of prison workers. If there is no legal stumbling block in the way the prisoners will be transferred in carefully guarded special coaches.

About 600 prisoners will be taken care of by the new dormitory at London, which should be finished by June 1, according to Harper. It is also planned to increase the working force at the state quarry from 15 men to 150 men.

Probing Soldiers' Cases.

Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 29.—The military commission examining punishment inflicted upon military prisoners, with a view of extending clemency in cases where sentences have been too severe, took up investigation of 238 men in the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth. A report will be placed before the secretary of war during April. The military commission will complete its work here next week and then go to Fort Jay, N. Y., where a similar investigation will be made.

REA DENIES REPORT

Pennsylvania Has Not Leased Hocking Valley System, He Says.

Columbus, Feb. 29.—In a statement issued here, Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, denied that the company had leased the Hocking Valley system. He said there had been no change in the situation from that expressed in his testimony before the interstate commerce commission on May 27, 1923. So far no steps had been taken to accept negotiations, Rea stated. The matter, in addition to requiring the approval of the stockholders, must also be approved by the commerce commission. He expressed the opinion that he felt sure that the project would be welcomed by the public as furthering the railroad consolidation policy under the federal transportation act.

Mr. Rea claimed that the interests of the two railroads are so intertwined that if a lease of the Hocking Valley by the Pennsylvania railroad would become an actuality, the prosperity of the two companies and the territory to be served would be greatly increased, provided that satisfactory terms could be reached.

Soldiers Disperse Mob.

Lufkin, Tex., Feb. 29.—A mob storming the jail here in an attempt to remove a negro prisoner was dispersed by national guard troops. The soldiers forced the rioters to flee after three of their number had been wounded. The prisoner was arrested in connection with the murder of Andy Sulzer in a holdup. Soon after he was placed in jail a crowd attempted to force an entrance. Three members of the crowd were wounded by sheriff's deputies and police.

Lauds Ludendorff.

Munich, Bavaria, Feb. 29.—General Ludendorff was "Germany's greatest general, sent from heaven, whom nobody could criticize," an indignant defense attorney declared at the trial of the world war commander and others for treason. Former Police President Poehner, one of the accused, said the beer cellar putchists planned to march on Berlin. The uprising of November, 1923, was a failure, however.

Children Victims of Crash.

Bellefontaine, O., Feb. 29.—Alpha Strickland, 14, and her brother, Howard, 10, and Lena May Schuster, 14, were killed, and Harold and Lloyd Strickland, 17 and 12, brothers of Alpha and Howard, were badly injured at Ridgeway, east of here, when a train hit the automobile in which the youngsters were riding.

Columbus, Feb. 29.—F. C. Ketner, director of live stock marketing of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, predicted further development of terminal marketing of live stock to killers, before the members of the Ohio Live Stock Co-operative association in conference here. He also predicted the bringing into use of an individual marketing contract between the producer and his county association as well as a contract between the county association and the terminal marketing commission.

Vocational School to Be Closed.

Chillicothe, O., Feb. 29.—Vocational School No. 1 is to be abolished June 30, 1924, according to an order received by President E. G. Dexter from Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' bureau. The 301 trainees now enrolled at the school will be transferred to the new government hospital now under construction at Camp Sherman. Their training will be continued at the hospital.

Killed Self While Asleep.

Marion, O., Feb. 29.—Coroner C. S. Burnside returned a finding to the effect that Otis Palmer, 9, shot and killed himself while walking in his sleep. Otis left his bed shortly before midnight and went into an adjoining room, where he secured a revolver. He returned to his own bedroom, where his younger sister lay asleep and shot himself through the heart.

Car Franchise Approved.

Akron, O., Feb. 29.—Streetcar service was resumed here following a month of suspension. The city administration, headed by Mayor D. C. Rybolt, approved a 15-month operating contract with the Northern Ohio Traction and Light company, providing for a 5-cent fare with a 1-cent transfer charge, and certain bus extensions by the traction company.

Hit by Train.

Tiffin, O., Feb. 29.—A freight engine ran into a group of bridge carpenters at work on the Sandusky river railroad bridge here. Fred Krider, 50, Garrett, Ind., was instantly killed and W. C. Losey of Defiance slightly injured.

Missing Heir Sought.

Cincinnati, Feb. 29.—Efforts are being made to locate Frank Whitney, Ironton, O., nephew of Charles H. H. House, died two weeks ago, leaving a modest estate. Whitney is the only known living relative.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The census of 1910 was definitely adopted by the senate immigration committee as the basis for immigration quotas under the new immigration law. The committee also decided by a close vote to reduce the quota percentage from 3 to 2 per cent.

WOULD AMEND VOLSTEAD ACT

Movement Initiated in the House for 2.75 Beer and Wine.

TWO OHIO SOLONS IN GROUP

House Progressives Join Administration Leaders in Compromise to Make the New Revenue Bill a Republican Measure — McLaughlin Amendment Cutting Automobile Taxes Adopted by the House.

Washington, Feb. 29.—A movement to amend the Volstead act to legalize 2 1/2 per cent beer, wine and other liquors has been launched in the house.

Representative Stephens of Cincinnati and Sherwood of Toledo have joined other congressmen in the proposed drive. The group has prepared an amendment which it will introduce in the house March 4. In the meantime other congressmen are being invited to join the movement and in a letter are being told that Volstead himself has declared 2.75 per cent beverages are legal.

Progressives in the house agreed to join administration leaders in a compromise to make the new revenue bill a "Republican" measure.

They agreed to support the Longworth compromise of 3 1/2 per cent as the maximum surtax rates if the organization's leaders would yield to a 5 per cent normal rate on incomes between $4,000 and $8,000 instead of 3 per cent as Longworth proposes. If the compromise is affected, the Garner Democratic rates will be knocked out of the bill on the final vote.

The Longworth compromise provides for a flat 25 per cent cut in income rates. The maximum rate of 37 1/2 per cent is on incomes of $200,000 or more. The Garner maximum is 44 per cent on incomes over $94,000.

Representative Nelson of Wisconsin in a statement explained the sudden switch of Progressives by saying "it was done in the interests of 'party solidarity' and a desire to raise sufficient revenue for the spidder bonus. The compromise rates, he believes, will raise more revenue than the Garner plan, which provides a 2 per cent normal tax on incomes up to $4,000 and 6 per cent above $4,000.

An amendment by Representative McLaughlin of Michigan, cutting automobile taxes, was adopted overwhelmingly. It would take off all taxes on automobiles trucks and wagons, the chassis of which costs $1,000 or less. A 3 per cent tax would be levied on automobiles costing more than $1,000. The 5 per cent tax on tires, accessories and repair parts was cut to 2 1/2 per cent.

HARPER FAVORS MOVE

Prisoners to Be Transferred from Penitentiary to Reformatory.

Columbus, Feb. 29.—Welfare Director Harper announced that immediate transfer from the Ohio penitentiary of from 100 to 150 young first offenders to the Mansfield reformatory is being considered to relieve crowded conditions at the former institution. Warden Thomas has been asked to furnish a list of prisoners of this class who can legally and safely be transferred.

Director Harper believes this would have double benefit, as it would go toward relieving the penitentiary, where hundreds of convicts are idle, and would furnish them with work at Mansfield, where there is a shortage of prison workers. If there is no legal stumbling block in the way the prisoners will be transferred in carefully guarded special coaches.

About 600 prisoners will be taken care of by the new dormitory at London, which should be finished by June 1, according to Harper. It is also planned to increase the working force at the state quarry from 16 men to 150 men.

Probing Soldiers' Cases.

Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 29.—The military commission examining punishment inflicted upon military prisoners, with a view of extending clemency in cases where sentences have been too severe, took up investigation of 238 men in the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth. A report will be placed before the secretary of war during April. The military commission will complete its work here next week and then go to Fort Jay, N. Y., where a similar investigation will be made.

REA DENIES REPORT

Pennsylvania Has Not Leased Hocking Valley System, He Says.

Columbus, Feb. 29.—In a statement issued here, Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, denied that the company had leased the Hocking Valley system. He said there had been no change in the situation from that expressed in his testimony before the interstate commerce commission on May 27, 1923. So far no steps had been taken to accept negotiations, Rea stated. The matter, in addition to requiring the approval of the stockholders, must also be approved by the commerce commission. He expressed the opinion that he felt sure that the project would be welcomed by the public as furthering the railroad consolidation policy under the federal transportation act.

Mr. Rea claimed that the interests of the two railroads are so intertwined that if a lease of the Hocking Valley by the Pennsylvania railroad would become an actuality, the prosperity of the two companies and the territory to be served would be greatly increased, provided that satisfactory terms could be reached.

Soldiers Disperse Mob.

Lufkin, Tex., Feb. 29.—A mob storming the jail here in an attempt to remove a negro prisoner was dispersed by national guard troops. The soldiers forced the rioters to flee after three of their number had been wounded. The prisoner was arrested in connection with the murder of Andy Sulzer in a holdup. Soon after he was placed in jail a crowd attempted to force an entrance. Three members of the crowd were wounded by sheriff's deputies and police.

Lauds Ludendorff.

Munich, Bavaria, Feb. 29.—General Ludendorff was "Germany's greatest general, sent from heaven, whom nobody could criticize," an indignant defense attorney declared at the trial of the world war commander and others for treason. Former Police President Poehner, one of the accused, said the beer cellar putchists planned to march on Berlin. The uprising of November, 1923, was a failure, however.

Children Victims of Crash.

Bellefontaine, O., Feb. 29.—Alpha Strickland, 14, and her brother, Howard, 10, and Lena May Schuster, 14, were killed, and Harold and Lloyd Strickland, 17 and 12, brothers of Alpha and Howard, were badly injured at Ridgeway, east of here, when a train hit the automobile in which the youngsters were riding.

First Campaign Emblem.
As far as known, the first campaign emblem was a finger ring of copper. It was worn by the adherents of John Quincy Adams in 1824, when he ran for president, and was inscribed "John Quincy Adams, 1825." Tintypes and medallions were among the insignia of the 1860 campaign.

Hotel Stenographer

BY ROE FULKERSON

"Kelly," asked the Hotel Stenographer, "is there anything hanging down below my skirt, except my feet?"

"There are two or three scallops of what-you-may-call-it showing." The House Detective hesitated. "How did you know it?"

"Walking thru Peacock Alley I felt people looking at it from behind me." The girl made a mysterious motion at her waist and the offending scallop disappeared.

"You know, Kelly, there are some of the lower forms of animal life which have no real brain at all, but have a sort of sensitive coating over their bodies which answers the purpose. They sense danger and pull in that portion of themselves.

"Women are like that, Kelly. They cannot think logically from cause to effect, like a man, but they have some kind of sensitive coating like a photographic film that makes them feel things that are wrong and looks which light on their backs.

"Haven't you ever seen a woman walking thru the streets when her blouse has slipped out of her skirt? The moment your eyes rest on it, her fingers come around behind her to investigate the spot you look at. She felt your look.

"A woman may have a wrinkle in her stocking at the ankle, have a gaping placket a petticoat showing, a skirt slipping, a strap down over her shoulder or any one of ten thousand things which may happen to her clothes. She may not know it, but the moment a man's eyes rest on that disarray she feels his look on her skin and fixes it immediately.

"It is the same skin brain which makes her cuddle mighty close to some men, and dance with others so far apart that you can run a taxicab between them. She doesn't think about these things, she just knows them and that's enough."

Marble Cheaper Than Pine.

The United States commercial attache in Rome reports that imported pitch pine now costs more than native Italian walnut and that builders save money by making stairways of marble instead of yellow pine.

Dainty Frock for Flappers to Wear

Satin Outfit With Accordion Plaiting and Applique Rosettes.

The black satin frock belongs exclusively to the flapper, asserts a fashion writer in the Washington Star. It has saucy little plaited frills suggesting sleeves, and a diminutive yoke dotted with countless tiny ribbon rosebuds. At one side the yoke effect is carried out by a panel of the same width of satin, also trimmed with applique rosettes, which extends the length of the gown, touching its hem. A border of narrow white lace gives an additional touch of piquancy to this panel, and is effectively contrasted against the somber black background. The frock itself is of black satin, accordion-plaited, with a long-bloused bodice and an equally long skirt. A wide sash of unplaited satin passes through a narrow opening in the side panel and ties in a fluffy bow at the opposite hip. The ends are daintily frilled with lace to correspond with that on the rosebud-dotted side piece.

Youthful Frock of Black Satin, Accordion Plaited.

The latest flapper fancy in millinery is the "Valentino" hat. One can picture every other small miss on the street wearing a small mannish South American chapeau, with strings tied saucily under her chin! The modistes should really revive the velvet bolero to go with it, and perhaps they will—one never can tell. To return to the "Valentino"—the establishment introducing it fashions the chapeau of stiff black felt. The flat crown is circled by one plain band of grosgrain ribbon, also in black, and the short ends dangle just an inch or so over the edge of the brim. Longer streamers of black grosgrain are fastened at each side of the brim, to tie in a loose knot below the chin of the wearer.

Furnish Sun Room to Get Pleasing Effect

The sun room has become so popular that it has virtually added a room to the house.

When furnishing and decorating a sun room, or any other room, one should always bear in mind the effect that color will create for both seasons of the year. For example, in one sun room the window construction converted it into an outdoor porch for the summer months. It was furnished with red-and-black wicker, with carpets and draperies to match. This color scheme, while stimulating and bright for winter, is entirely too brilliant and warm for the summer. The advisability of purchasing gray, cream, pale-green or natural-colored wicker or painted furniture for year-round furnishing can readily be proved to be excellent, as these colors can be made to appear warm or cool looking with the addition of colorful cushions and accessories. Wicker flower stands enable the homemaker to keep her choice of growing seasonable blooms in stylish fashion, while the new standing or hanging bird cages and goldfish bowls refresh one by a mere sight of them.—Delineator.

Original Cape.
A cape of striking originality is made of cafe au lait canton crepe, with a collar of leopard skin. Around the bottom is a border of applique embroidery done in a lighter tone of the crepe, and with insets of the full forming leaves.

Black Organdie.
Black organdie is seen infrequently enough to have the charm of novelty when it does appear. Frequently it is combined with silver cloth or a colorful lining, and brightened up with gay embroidery.

Feared Burial Alive.
Hans Andersen and Harriet Martineau left specific instructions that they should not be buried until everything had been done to make sure that they were lifeless. So did Wilkie Collins, whose novel "Jezebel's Daughter" contains a thrilling account of a scene in a German dead-house when an English widow, poisoned and supposed to be dead, sits up and confronts her enemies.

Dainty Frock for Flappers to Wear
Satin Outfit With Accordion Plaiting and Applique Rosettes.

The black satin frock belongs exclusively to the flapper, asserts a fashion writer in the Washington Star. It has saucy little plaited frills suggesting sleeves, and a diminutive yoke dotted with countless tiny ribbon rosebuds. At one side the yoke effect is carried out by a panel of the same width of satin, also trimmed with applique rosettes, which extends the length of the gown, touching its hem. A border of narrow white lace gives an additional touch of piquancy to this panel, and is effectively contrasted against the somber black background. The frock itself is of black satin, accordion-plaited, with a long-bloused bodice and an equally long skirt. A wide sash of unplaited satin passes through a narrow opening in the side panel and ties in a fluffy bow at the opposite hip. The ends are daintily frilled with lace to correspond with that on the rosebud-dotted side piece.

Youthful Frock of Black Satin, Accordion Plaited.

The latest flapper fancy in millinery is the "Valentino" hat. One can picture every other small miss on the street wearing a small mannish South American chapeau, with strings tied saucily under her chin! The modistes should really revive the velvet bolero to go with it, and perhaps they will—one never can tell. To return to the "Valentino"—the establishment introducing it fashions the chapeau of stiff black felt. The flat crown is circled by one plain band of grosgrain ribbon, also in black, and the short ends dangle just an inch or so over the edge of the brim. Longer streamers of black grosgrain are fastened at each side of the brim, to tie in a loose knot below the chin of the wearer.

Furnish Sun Room to Get Pleasing Effect
The sun room has become so popular that it has virtually added a room to the house.
When furnishing and decorating a sun room, or any other room, one should always bear in mind the effect that color will create for both seasons of the year. For example, in one sun room the window construction converted it into an outdoor porch for the summer months. It was furnished with red-and-black wicker, with carpets and draperies to match. This color scheme, while stimulating and bright for winter, is entirely too brilliant and warm for the summer. The advisability of purchasing gray, cream, pale-green or natural-colored wicker or painted furniture for year-round furnishing can readily be proved to be excellent, as these colors can be made to appear warm or cool looking with the addition of colorful cushions and accessories. Wicker flower stands enable the homemaker to keep her choice of growing seasonable blooms in stylish fashion, while the new standing or hanging bird cages and goldfish bowls refresh one by a mere sight of them.—Delineator.

Original Cape.
A cape of striking originality is made of cafe au lait canton crepe, with a collar of leopard skin. Around the bottom is a border of applique embroidery done in a lighter tone of the crepe, and with insets of the full forming leaves.

Black Organdie.
Black organdie is seen infrequently enough to have the charm of novelty when it does appear. Frequently it is combined with silver cloth or a colorful lining, and brightened up with gay embroidery.

How It Works Out.
Most men who have a bad opinion of women get their opinion from some woman who probably got it from a man, etc.—Exchange.

HALF CENTURY IN PRIESTHOOD

Father Michael M. Meara to Celebrate Fifty Years of Service.

Was Pastor of St. Joseph's Church in This City for Eighteen Years and is Now at the Cathedral in Columbus Was Ordained May 30, 1874

The Ohio State Journal of Thursday printed the picture of Rev. Father M. M. Meara, for eighteen years pastor of St. Joseph's church in this city.

Father Meara will soon round out a half century of services as a priest of the Catholic church and the State Journal says:

"When Decoration day comes this year Rev. Father Michael M. Meara will celebrate his daily mass, and then, God willing, begin the routine of his day. It will be much the same as every other day, for Rev. Father Meara is a modest gentleman and most uneasy when anything in the nature of a fuss, however admiring, is made over him.

"But the day will mark an occasion for less modesty. On May 30, Rev. Father Meara will have served his church for one-half century as a priest. He was ordained on May 30, 1874, in the same cathedral of which he is pastor today, St. Joseph's, in East Broad street.

"He was ordained by Bishop Rosecrans, the first bishop of Columbus. Rev. Father Meara had been educated at Mt. St. Mary's seminary and St. Aloysius' which has since gone out of existence. He was born in Cincinnati, October 20, 1850.

"After his ordination, Rev. Father Meara was stationed at the cathedral until 1882, going in that year to Circleville, where he was pastor of St. Joseph's church until 1900.

"In 1900, when the now Archbishop Moeller of Cincinnati, was bishop at the cathedral, Rev. Father Meara returned to that city again. He has been at St. Joseph's since then, and now is pastor.

"Rev. Father Meara has but one relative in Columbus, a sister, Mrs. Helen Fitzpatrick, of Governor's place

"This priest of 74 years in the service of God is still active in supervising the work at the cathedral. Soft-voiced of kindly manner and modest in his words, he wasn't too pleased that there was to be some notice of his anniversary. He will not celebrate it in any other than his ordinary way, he said, adding that he did not celebrate his 25th anniversary either. He was reminded that a half century of priesthood is far from a common thing and that it was indeed a distinction.

"But you see," Rev Father Meara said softly and earnestly, "when you've had 50 years given you to serve and you've done as little as I have, it isn't much to brag about, is it?"

In Memoriam.

Editor Union-Herald:—Mrs. Dellah Anderson Eaton was born in the year 1855, in Circleville, Ohio, one of a family of five children, three of whom survive.

She graduated from the Circleville high school in the year, 1873, and later was a first grade teacher in these schools. So sympathetic was her contact with the little ones that one of pleasures thru the years were the frequent visits of these pupils, grown to manhood and womanhood, returning from other cities and states to their childhood homes, coming to pay tribute to the sweet voiced, kindly faced teacher who welcomed them to their first school.

On June 15, 1880, she was married to Mr. Charles F. Eaton. To this union nine children were born; one daughter, Margaret, died in infancy; another, Asa, at 14 years of age. The living are Glenn, a pharmacist in Postoria; Mary Jane, a teacher in Rome, Italy; Anna, wife of Mr. H. W. Plum; Alice, wife of Mr. Neil Walker Charlotte, wife of Charles Owens; Katherine, a nurse in Columbus, and Thyrza, a manual arts teacher in Cleveland.

Mrs. Eaton was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. There were years when ill health and home duties prevented her presence in the various church services but her heart and loyalty were there as evidenced by the presence of her family of children who were always prepared in time for the Sunday school, Junior League or any other service for children. A woman who was always to be found in her home, yet so full was her interest in other people that these years of home service only served to deepen the feelings of friends and to win for her the respect of the community.

Preeminently a mother, in the fullest, deepest and most intimate sense of that world loved name, giving herself without thought of self to the comfort and pleasure of her family, but so fine was her integrity, so clear her moral standard that the depth of her affection demanded that each child grow and continue to grow in healthful stature, in mental strength with a spiritual meaning ever the motivating principle.

The outstanding words that controlled her counsel were; love, loyalty, kindness, service.

When you buy your new Spring Hat make it a Stetson. They cost no more than a cheap one. You will find a swell assortment at

HALF CENTURY IN PRIESTHOOD

Father Michael M. Meara to Celebrate Fifty Years of Service.

Was Pastor of St. Joseph's Church in This City for Eighteen Years and is Now at the Cathedral in Columbus - Was Ordained May 30, 1874

The Ohio State Journal of Thursday printed the picture of Rev. Father M. M. Meara, for eighteen years pastor of St. Joseph's church in this city.

Father Meara will soon round out a half century of services as a priest of the Catholic church and the State Journal says:

"When Decoration day comes this year Rev. Father Michael M. Meara will celebrate his daily mass, and then, God willing, begin the routine of his day. It will be much the same as every other day, for Rev. Father Meara is a modest gentleman and most uneasy when anything in the nature of a fuss, however admiring, is made over him.

"But the day will mark an occasion for less modesty. On May 30, Rev. Father Meara will have served his church for one-half century as a priest. He was ordained on May 30, 1874, in the same cathedral of which he is pastor today, St. Joseph's, in East Broad street.

"He was ordained by Bishop Rosecrans, the first bishop of Columbus. Rev. Father Meara had been educated at Mt. St. Mary's seminary and St. Aloysius' which has since gone out of existence. He was born in Cincinnati, October 20, 1850.

"After his ordination, Rev. Father Meara was stationed at the cathedral until 1882, going in that year to Circleville, where he was pastor of St. Joseph's church until 1900.

"In 1900, when the now Archbishop Moeller of Cincinnati, was bishop at the cathedral, Rev. Father Meara returned to that city again. He has been at St. Joseph's since then, and now is pastor.

"Rev. Father Meara has but one relative in Columbus, a sister, Mrs. Helen Fitzpatrick, of Governor's place.

"This priest of 74 years in the service of God is still active in supervising the work at the cathedral. Soft-voiced of kindly manner and modest in his words, he wasn't too pleased that there was to be some notice of his anniversary. He will not celebrate it in any other than his ordinary way, he said, adding that he did not celebrate his 25th anniversary either. He was reminded that a half century of priesthood is far from a common thing and that it was indeed a distinction.

"But you see, Rev. Father Meara said softly and earnestly, 'when you've had 50 years given you to serve and you've done as little as I have, it isn't much to brag about, is it?'"

In Memoriam.

Editor Union-Herald:—Mrs. Dellah Anderson Eaton was born in the year 1855, in Circleville, Ohio, one of a family of five children, three of whom survive.

She graduated from the Circleville high school in the year, 1873, and later was a first grade teacher in these schools. So sympathetic was her contact with the little ones that one of pleasures thru the years were the frequent visits of these pupils, grown to manhood and womanhood, returning from other cities and states to their childhood homes, coming to pay tribute to the sweet voiced, kindly faced teacher who welcomed them to their first school.

On June 15, 1880, she was married to Mr. Charles F. Eaton. To this union nine children were born; one daughter, Margaret, died in infancy; another, Asa, at 14 years of age. The living are Glenn, a pharmacist in Fostoria; Mary Jane, a teacher in Rome, Italy; Anna, wife of Mr. H. W. Plum; Alice, wife of Mr. Neil Walker Charlotte, wife of Charles Owens; Katherine, a nurse in Columbus, and Thyrza, a manual arts teacher in Cleveland.

Mrs. Eaton was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. There were years when ill health and home duties prevented her presence in the various church services but her heart and loyalty were there as evidenced by the presence of her family of children who were always prepared in time for the Sunday school, Junior League or any other service for children. A woman who was always to be found in her home, yet so full was her interest in other people that these years of home service only served to deepen the feelings of friends and to win for her the respect of the community.

Preeminently a mother, in the fullest, deepest and most intimate sense of that world loved name, giving herself without thought of self to the comfort and pleasure of her family, but so fine was her integrity, so clear her moral standard that the depth of her affection demanded that each child grow and continue to grow in healthful stature, in mental strength with a spiritual meaning ever the motivating principle.

The outstanding words that controlled her counsel were; love, loyalty, kindness, service.

When you buy your new Spring Hat make it a Stetson. They cost no more than a cheap one. You will find a swell assortment at

AMUSEMENTS

A stout willow sapling recently saved Lois Wilson, Paramount featured player from being thrown from her horse fifty feet down a rocky precipice while riding out to location in the Tonto Basin, Arizona.

Miss Wilson plays the role of Ellen Jorth in the Paramount production, "To the Last Man" now at the Met theater and the accident was caused by an insecure saddle cinch. As she felt the saddle slipping sideways, she seized a willow three above her head which broke her fall and prevented both horse and rider from plunging over the cliff. Miss Wilson sustained a few minor bruises and was found by Richard Dix, also a featured player in the production, who was hurrying along the trail.

Miss Wilson, who is an excellent horsewoman, was riding "Senator," the spirited horse which attracted such notice in Paramount's epic picture, "The Covered Wagon," a James Cruze production in which Miss Wilson played.

"To the Last Man" was directed by Victor Fleming and the scenes were shot in the hills of Arizona, 200 miles from a railway station. The story is historical and deals captivantly with a sanguinary feud waged in the eighties. The other featured players are Noah Beery, Robert Edeson and Frank Campeau.

There are many scenes of great dramatic power while the live interest never lags. It is a most compelling photoplay. The supporting players include many screen artists of reputation and popularity.

ELIGIBLE LIST

Orrin Gessley, Orville Trone and George Foreman Made the Grade.

The United States civil service commission has sent out its report and grades of the candidates for the office of postmaster in this city and on the eligible list are the names of the present postmaster, Orrin L. Gessley, the assistant postmaster, Orville Trone, and George P. Foreman.

The ratings are as follows: Mr. Gessley, education and training, 74 per cent; business experience and fitness, 95 per cent; average percentage 90.8 per cent.

Mr. Trone, education and training, 74 per cent; business experience and fitness, 82 per cent; average percentage, 81.2 per cent.

Mr. Foreman, education and training, 71 per cent; business experience and fitness, 70 per cent; average percentage, 70.2 per cent.

The average percentage is obtained by multiplying the rating of each subject by the relative weight of the subject, add the products and divide the sum of the products by the sum of relative weights.

The rating of the first subject is one and the second is four, and the result is obtained in Postmaster Gessley's case as follows; multiply 95 by four and add 74 which gives 454. This divided by five gives his average percentage, 90.8.

"THE CHEAT" IS COMING.

The Paramount picture, "The Cheat" starring Pola Negri, will be the feature at the Metropolitan theater for 3 days beginning Monday. Jack Holt is featured and Charles de Roche heads the support. This is a George Fitzmaurice production, adapted to the screen by Ouida Berger from a story by Hector Turnbull.

PLAN REPAIRS ON PIKE.

If plans are carried out this spring there will be another long detour between Washington C. H., and Circleville and the road will probably be closed indefinitely while two sections of the road near Williamsport are being improved.

The macadam section about three miles west of Williamsport, will be built at a cost of $45,674.85 and the other section will be concrete, built at a cost of $37,812.60.

THE EIKS FAIR.

The second night of the Eiks fair was more largely attended than the first night. The place was literally stormed by members of the order from surrounding towns. Chillicothe Eiks were accompanied by a band and large delegations came from Lancaster, Logan, New Straitsville and Nelsonville. It is expected that the Eiks of New Lexington and Newark will visit the fair this evening. The show and carnival will be staged tonight and Saturday afternoon and night.

A Great Revenue.

Economy is a great revenue.—Cicero.

POLA NEGRI'S HANDS

Pola Negri's beautiful and expressive hands are one of her most valuable assets in her acting. In "The Cheat" a Paramount picture, of which she is the star, produced by George Fitzmaurice, she makes marvelous use of her hands in "putting over" emotional or semi-tragic meanings. One might gain the motive of the scene without seeing her face, if only her hands were visible. Jack Holt is featured and Charles de Roche is in support of this picture, which will be the feature at the Met theater next Monday. 29Feb22.

Lesson for March 2

THE REVIVAL UNDER SAMUEL

LESSON TEXT—I Sam. 1:7.
GOLDEN TEXT—Prepare your hearts unto the Lord and serve Him only.—I Sam. 7:13.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Calls the Boy Samuel.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Victory at Ebenezer.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Samuel Served His Nation.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Revival Under Samuel.

Gross immorality and even anarchy prevailed during the close of the period of the Judges, as we see recorded in the last chapters of Judges. Through the ministry of the last Judge, Samuel, a brighter day dawned upon Israel.

I. Features of Israel's History in This Period.

1. A Demoralized Priesthood.

(1) The priests were actuated by greed (I Sam. 2:12-17). It was God's will that those who ministered at the altar should live of the things of the altar, but they broke through the divine revelations touching this matter and were securing their selfish ends by force.

(2) The priests polluted the courts of God's house with the grossest immorality (I Sam. 2:22). We thus see that the condition of the nation was most appalling. When God's ministers are actuated by greed and practice uncleanness, degradation and ruin rapidly follow.

2. An Alienated People. The only thing which separates people from God is sin. The people who choose sin shall be thus separated from God.

3. A Cessation of Divine Revelation (I Sam. 3:1). God was silent ("The word of God was precious in those days, there was no open vision"). The message from the Lord was a matter of memory.

II. God Calls Samuel (I Sam. 3:2-10). Samuel's name means, "Asked of God." He was given to Hannah in answer to prayer. In asking God for this son she vowed to dedicate him to the Lord. Accordingly at an early age she took him to the sanctuary and gave him over to the charge of Eli. Thus in his tender years he ministered to the Lord. The beautiful life of Samuel was in striking contrast to the degradation of the nation.

III. Samuel's First Prophetic Message (I Sam. 3:11-18).

Up to this time Samuel obeyed the one who was over him, but the time had now come when he must directly hear and obey the Lord. The first message entrusted to him is a most terrible one. He hesitated to tell it to Eli, but, when pressed by him, he manifested the true courage which was lying back of his fear. He announced a fearful visitation upon Eli's house because of the sins of his sons.

IV. Samuel Established in the Prophetic Office (I Sam. 3:19-21).

"And Samuel grew, and the Lord was with him, and did let none of his words fall to the ground, and all Israel from Dan even unto Beer-sheba knew that Samuel was established to be a prophet of the Lord."

V. Victory of Samuel (I Sam. 7:1-14).

1. Samuel Calls Israel to Repentance (vv. 1-4). Some twenty years have now elapsed since Israel was humiliated by the Philistines. He asks the people to turn to the Lord with all their hearts, the proof of which would be:

(1) To put away their own licentious worship. This was really gross uncleanness under the guise of religion.

(2) To direct their hearts unto the Lord and serve Him only.

2. Israel Assembled at Mizpeh (vv. 5, 6). The purpose of this assembly was the confession of their sins. They poured water before the Lord, thus symbolizing their need of cleansing and the pouring out of their hearts in penitence before the Lord. They fasted and publicly confessed their sins.

3. The Philistines Attack Israel (v. 7). The assembly of Israel at Mizpeh alarmed the Philistines. They interpreted the gathering as a preparation to attack them, so they decided to attack first.

4. The Intercession of Samuel (vv. 8, 9). Samuel accompanied his intercession with a burnt offering, showing that he looked for acceptance in the sacrifice of another, even Christ.

5. The Victory Over the Philistines (vv. 10, 11). "This was the result of God's interposition. "The Lord thundered with a great thunder that day and discomfited them."

6. A Memorial Set Up (vv. 12-14). Samuel set up a stone between Mizpeh and Shen and called it Ebenezer, which means, "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us."

Unpolished hearts do not shine; so untried Christians do not display the real luster of their true character.—The Christian Monitor.

ELIGIBLE LIST

Orrin Gessley, Orville Trone and George Foresman Made the Grade

The United States civil service commission has sent out its report and grades of the candidates for the office of postmaster in this city and on the eligible list are the names of the present postmaster, Orrin L. Gessley, the assistant postmaster, Orville Trone, and George P. Foresman.

The ratings are as follows: Mr. Gessley, education and training, 74 per cent; business experience and fitness, 95 per cent; average percentage 90.8 per cent;

Mr. Trone, education and training, 74 per cent; business experience and fitness, 82 per cent; average percentage, 81.2 per cent.

Mr. Foresman, education and training, 71 per cent; business experience and fitness, 70 per cent; average percentage, 70.2 per cent.

The average percentage is obtained by multiplying the rating of each subject by the relative weight of the subject, add the products and divide the sum of the products by the sum of relative weights.

The rating of the first subject is one and the second is four, and the result is obtained in Postmaster Gessley's case as follows; multiply 95 by four and add 74 which gives 454. This divided by five gives his average percentage, 90.8.

Sunshine.

"THE CHEAT" IS COMING.

The Paramount picture, "The Cheat" starring Pola Negri, will be the feature at the Metropolitan theater for 3 days beginning Monday. Jack Holt is featured and Charles de Roche heads the support. This is a George Fitzmaurice production, adapted to the screen by Ouida Berger from a story by Hector Turnbull.

PLAN REPAIRS ON PIKE.

If plans are carried out this spring there will be another long detour between Washington C. H., and Circleville and the road will probably be closed indefinitely while two sections of the road near Williamsport are being improved.

The macadam section about three miles west of Williamsport, will be built at a cost of $45,674.85 and the other section will be concrete, built at a cost of $37,812.60.

THE ELKS FAIR.

The second night of the Elks fair was more largely attended than the first night. The place was literally stormed by members of the order from surrounding towns. Chillicothe Elks were accompanied by a band and large delegations came from Lancaster, Logan, New Straitsville and Nelsonville. It is expected that the Elks of New Lexington and Newark will visit the fair this evening. The show and carnival will be staged tonight and Saturday afternoon and night.

A Great Revenue.
Economy is a great revenue.—Cicero.

POLA NEGRI'S HANDS

Pola Negri's beautiful and expressive hands are one of her most valuable assets in her acting. In "The Cheat" a Paramount picture, of which she is the star, produced by George Fitzmaurice, she makes marvelous use of her hands in "putting over" emotional or semi-tragical meanings. One might gain the motive of the scene without seeing her face, if only her hands were visible. Jack Holt is featured and Charles de Roche is in support of this picture, which will be the feature at the Met theater next Monday. 29febd2.

Lesson for March 2

THE REVIVAL UNDER SAMUEL

LESSON TEXT—I Sam. 1:7.
GOLDEN TEXT—Prepare your hearts unto the Lord and serve Him only.—1 Sam. 7:3.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Calls the Boy Samuel.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Victory at Ebenezer.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Samuel Served His Nation.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Revival Under Samuel.

Gross immorality and even anarchy prevailed during the close of the period of the judges, as we see recorded in the last chapters of Judges. Through the ministry of the last judge, Samuel, a brighter day dawned upon Israel.

I. Features of Israel's History in This Period.

1. A Demoralized Priesthood.

(1) The priests were actuated by greed (1 Sam. 2:12-17). It was God's will that those who ministered at the altar should live of the things of the altar, but they broke through the divine revelations touching this matter and were securing their selfish ends by force.

(2) The priests polluted the courts of God's house with the grossest immorality (1 Sam. 2:22). We thus see that the condition of the nation was most appalling. When God's ministers are actuated by greed and practice uncleanness, degradation and ruin rapidly follow.

2. An Alienated People. The only thing which separates people from God is sin. The people who choose sin shall be thus separated from God.

3. A Cessation of Divine Revelation (1 Sam. 3:1). God was silent ("The word of God was precious in those days, there was no open vision"). The message from the Lord was a matter of memory.

II. God Calls Samuel (1 Sam. 3:2-10). Samuel's name means, "Asked of God." He was given to Hannah in answer to prayer. In asking God for this son she vowed to dedicate him to the Lord. Accordingly at an early age she took him to the sanctuary and gave him over to the charge of Eli. Thus in his tender years he ministered to the Lord. The beautiful life of Samuel was in striking contrast to the degradation of the nation.

III. Samuel's First Prophetic Message (1 Sam. 3:11-13).

Up to this time Samuel obeyed the one who was over him, but the time had now come when he must directly hear and obey the Lord. The first message entrusted to him is a most terrible one. He hesitated to tell it to Eli, but, when pressed by him, he manifested the true courage which was lying back of his fear. He announced a fearful visitation upon Eli's house because of the sins of his sons.

IV. Samuel Established in the Prophetic Office (1 Sam. 3:19-21).

"And Samuel grew, and the Lord was with him, and did let none of his words fall to the ground, and all Israel from Dan even unto Beer-sheba knew that Samuel was established to be a prophet of the Lord."

V. Victory of Samuel (1 Sam. 7:1-14).

1. Samuel Calls Israel to Repentance (vv. 1-4). Some twenty years have now elapsed since Israel was humiliated by the Philistines. He asks the people to turn to the Lord with all their hearts, the proof of which would be:

(1) To put away their own licentious worship. This was really gross uncleanliness under the guise of religion.

(2) To direct their hearts unto the Lord and serve Him only.

2. Israel Assembled at Mizpeh (vv. 5, 6). The purpose of this assembly was the confession of their sins. They poured water before the Lord, thus symbolizing their need of cleansing and the pouring out of their hearts in penitence before the Lord. They fasted and publicly confessed their sins.

3. The Philistines Attack Israel (v. 7). The assembly of Israel at Mizpeh alarmed the Philistines. They interpreted the gathering as a preparation to attack them, so they decided to attack first.

4. The Intercession of Samuel (vv. 8, 9). Samuel accompanied his intercession with a burnt offering, showing that he looked for acceptance in the sacrifice of another, even Christ.

5. The Victory Over the Philistines (vv. 10, 11). "This was the result of God's interposition. "The Lord thundered with a great thunder that day and discomfited them."

6. A Memorial Set Up (vv. 12-14). Samuel set up a stone between Mizpeh and Shen and called it Ebenezer, which means, "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us."

'Tis always morning somewhere in the world.—Horne.

American Indian a Mystery.
The origin of the American Indian is a matter of dispute. Ethnologically, the Indian resembles most closely certain Mongolian and Siberian peoples. It is, therefore, believed by most authorities that his ancestors crossed from Asia to Alaska and thence down the coast of North America.

She Was Playing the Game

By ELLA SAUNDERS

(©, 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

KATHLEEN looked around the little shabby hall bedroom that she was so soon to leave forever. Her suitcase was packed, and it contained all her worldly possessions. The only other thing she had of value was her face—her beauty.

She surveyed herself in the glass. "For Sale" she thought bitterly. Well, why not? After those three years of struggle and poverty in the city—why not, when Ellis loved her?

Mechanically she picked up a letter lying on the table. She must not leave it there. She was growing careless. She read it once again:

"I'll call for you at nine tonight and we'll be on our way West by midnight."

Ellis loved her. He was employed in the same office with her. He was manager of a department. He had had an offer of a better post in California. He had five thousand dollars a year in his present position, and he had money saved. Yes, it was a good thing for her.

And he had sworn to marry her after his wife divorced him.

Kathleen's last scruples had been broken down. She was eagerly waiting for him. Soon she would hear his footstep on the stair. He would catch her in his arms. And she would be safe with him at last. Safe for ever. Safe from the daily sordid grind, the poverty.

A tap at the door. Surely it could not be Ellis! Kathleen went to it with a wildly beating heart and opened it. But it was only old Mrs. Toms, the landlady.

"I beg your pardon, Miss Jameson, but about that week's rent in advance," she began. "You leaving so sudden—"

"Oh, yes, Mrs. Toms," said Kathleen, taking up her purse.

She paid the landlady. "I wouldn't ask for it, God knows, Miss Jameson, if things wasn't so hard," said Mrs. Toms. "But you know how it is."

"I suppose things are pretty hard in your business," answered Kathleen mechanically. She wished the woman would go.

"Say, hard ain't the word, Miss Jameson! And what with four children to bring up, and my husband God knows where! It's often I'm tempted just to go off somewhere and get a job and leave them all."

"But of course you wouldn't do that."

"Well, I guess not. But—you'll understand, Miss Jameson, there was a time, just after little Charlie was born—I was younger-looking then than I am now, and considered pretty. And there was a gentleman—"

Mrs. Toms put a corner of her apron to her eyes and began to cry.

"Frank and me never got along together, not from the beginning. He used to illtreat me. And Mr. Farrington, he came along and wanted me to go South with him. Heaps of money he had, too. If only I'd gone. But there was little Charlie, and somehow I couldn't."

"And are you glad or sorry?" Kathleen was speaking with suppressed eagerness.

"Why—I guess I'm glad on the whole, Miss Jameson," answered Mrs. Toms. "I like sometimes to think of it, when I'm feeling low, and to picture what might have been. But I guess there wouldn't have been no real happiness in it. You can't get happiness that way. It's all a sort of game, this living, and one's got to play it. And I've played it."

Her words struck home in a way she did not imagine. She turned toward the door.

"Well, I'm sure I'm thankful to you for that money, Miss Jameson," she said. "And of course you understand how it is."

"Oh, quite, quite," answered Kathleen.

She was standing in the middle of the floor, her hands clenched. In that moment she was making the decision of her life. A game! To play or not to play?

Suddenly, impulsively, she called to the woman:

"Oh, Mrs. Toms?"

"Miss Jameson?"

"If my friend calls for me this evening, tell him I'm gone and that I'll write to him."

But she knew that she would never write.

Worth the Effort

When retired ministers get together they frequently fall to discussing sermons they have preached. Two Scotch Presbyterians just over from Scotland met at a church service recently and during the conversation one of them stated that when he first entered the ministry he delivered a sermon three hours in length.

"Mon, weren't you tired before you had finished?" asked the other.

"Sure," the other answered, "but it woulda done your heart good to see how tired the people were."—Columbus Dispatch.

Hydrographers Know the Sea.

A person who prescribes ocean routes for steamers is known as a hydrographer. He makes maps and charts of the seas and other waters. He determines and reports the condition of navigable waters, whether ocean or inland, charting the coasts and rivers, determining depths, the quality of the bottom, the times of the tides and measuring the currents.

"Well, I'm sure I'm thankful to you for that money, Miss Jameson," she said. "And of course you understand how it is."

"Oh, quite, quite," answered Kathleen.

She was standing in the middle of the floor, her hands clenched. In that moment she was making the decision of her life. A game! To play or not to play?

Suddenly, impulsively, she called to the woman:

"Oh, Mrs. Toms?"

"Miss Jameson?"

"If my friend calls for me this evening, tell him I'm gone and that I'll write to him."

But she knew that she would never write.

Worth the Effort

When retired ministers get together they frequently fail to discussing sermons they have preached. Two Scotch Presbyterians just over from Scotland met at a church service recently and during the conversation one of them stated that when he first entered the ministry he delivered a sermon three hours in length.

"Mon, weren't you tired before you had finished?" asked the other.

"Sure," the other answered, "but it woulda done your heart good to see how tired the people were."—Columbus Dispatch.

Hydrographers Know the Sea.

A person who prescribes ocean routes for steamers is known as a hydrographer. He makes maps and charts of the seas and other waters. He determines and reports the condition of navigable waters, whether ocean or inland, charting the coasts and rivers, determining depths, the quality of the bottom, the times of the tides and measuring the currents.

Of What Use Is It?

After growing for ten years, the Japanese cypress, one of the smallest specimens of the horticultural world, reaches the size of a golf ball.

Good Friday.

Good Friday has been observed since the earliest days of Christianity in memory of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ, which event is said to have occurred Friday, April 15, 29, A. Superstitions of the Great.

Dr. Samuel Johnson, so it is recorded, would never enter a room left foot foremost, and brave Marshal Saxe was in terror at the sight of a cat. Peter the Great was in a tremor of fear if he had to cross a bridge, and Byron turned pale if he spilled salt at the table.

Youthful Solomon.

Hearing his father grumbling about the high price of coal, a small boy remarked quite solemnly: "I wouldn't buy any more of it if I were you, daddy—we only burn it."

What Appealed to Robert.

His father wasn't anxious to have Robert play with a certain urchin in the neighborhood whose language wasn't always proper, so he said, "Robert, seems to me that boy always has a dirty face; if I were you I'd play with someone else that is cleaner." To which Robert responded, "Why, daddy, I don't need to look at his face—but he's got the best legs on the ball team."

Musical Instruments of Insects.

Buzzing or humming is mainly due to rapid vibrations of the wings, which often strike the air more than a hundred times in a second, but there is sometimes a special quivering instrument near the base of the wings. Chirping or trilling is due to some sort of "stridulating" organ, one hard part being scraped against another, as the bow on the fiddle—it may be leg against wing.

FOR CRIPPLES

Clinic Will be Held in This City, Wednesday, March 27.

During the past two years County Health Commissioner Dr. R. S. Hosler and the County Nurse Miss Warner have made a survey of all the cripples in this health district and have found forty-five adults and children who are crippled in some way.

These cases have been investigated and records of them kept on file in the health commissioners office.

The state department of education has benefited twelve cases in this county by different appliances and by fitting them for some work that they may do.

The cases which could be and who consented to surgical treatment were taken to Columbus hospitals and cared for as charity cases.

In a further effort to benefit these cripples of the county, the state department of health has arranged with the county board of health to hold a free clinic in Circleville, March 27, 1924.

An orthopedic surgeon of marked ability will examine these cases and advise such treatment as may be necessary.

The Rotary club will assist in this work and will furnish free conveyance to the clinic.

The cooperation of the physicians and public will be of great aid to the clinic.

R. S. HOSLER, M. D.
Health Commissioner

AUTO OWNERS LISTEN.

Radiolite is coming into its own. Better get the Radiolite men to install Radiolite before you hear those "cheerful" words which every motorist has heard so often: "Your battery won't take the charge. You need a new one." A word to the wise ought to be enough. Some day Radiolite will be in your battery—why not now? Why wait until your battery becomes corroded and unfit for service. Install Radiolite now and prolong its life and at the same time get the best of service from it.

Money to be Distributed for Maintenance and Repair of Roads.

Thru the prompt transfer of money received from the sale of automobile license tags for 1924, secretary of state, Thad H. Brown, has today completed vouchers totalling $3,121,856.11 for distribution to the various county and local taxing subdivisions of the state and warrants will be immediately mailed to the county auditor of each county for the amounts to which that county is entitled.

Secretary Brown today announced the share of this vast sum for Pickaway county and the amounts that were certified for the taxing subdivision of this county are as follows:

County	$ 8,479 87
Ashville	850 17
Circleville	4,576 34
Commercial Point	117 60
Darbyville	87 05
New Holland	343 55
South Bloomfield	96 66
Tarleton	150 30
Williamsport	247 42

Total$16,048 88

This money will be immediately available for the maintenance and repair of the streets and highways of the state and work on them may be started as soon as weather conditions will permit.

There has been deposited by the secretary of state in the state treasury, approximately seven and one-half million dollars derived from the sale of automobile license tags for the year, 1924, and the amounts distributed to the counties and local subdivisions represents about three-fifths of the total amount to be distributed for the current year, based on the probable increase in the number of motor vehicles.

The adoption of efficient methods in the automobile division of his department has made it possible for Secretary Brown to distribute an amount on March 1, which is in excess of any amount distributed by September 1, of any other year.

CONFIDENCE

The most beautiful of all human relationships are based on CONFIDENCE. Love is based on confidence, friendship is based on confidence, happy marriages are based on confidence; and so, confidence is the highest aim a business institution can achieve, because it introduces into the processes of buying and selling, something of the unselfish quality of those sacred human relationships that are untouched and uncontaminated by money. This store never wants to be guilty of such bad taste as to claim perfection, but it makes no secret of its ambition to foster and deserve at all times the confidence of its customers.

There is no higher success than TO BE BELIEVED IN!
